Why online tutoring?

Articulate Language Camps prides itself in delivering dynamic, 'out of the box' language programmes for children and young people. Until now, we have done this through working with schools during term time, delivering outdoor and digital media workshops and residential programmes, and by hosting individuals from all over the world for our summer camp programmes.

Due to Covid-19 restrictions and the fact our usual way of working isn't possible, our talented and engaging teachers will now deliver lessons to a range of ages and stages from behind a screen using Zoom. We hope this ensures we can continue to provide great educational experiences and enthuse people whom we may not otherwise have taught.

We'd love for you to join us on this adventure!

Who will deliver my session?

Your session will be delivered by one of our trained, qualified teachers, who are either native speakers of the foreign language or who have received an Honours degree in the foreign languages they are teaching. Our team have a wealth of experience working with all ages and ability levels and are particularly skilled in ensuring that learners build confidence and skills in really using the language they are studying.

What can we provide?

We can provide lessons in French, Spanish, German and English as a Foreign Language.

In advance of beginning lessons, your assigned teacher will have a consultation by phone or email to establish exactly what you, or your child, would like to achieve from the sessions to make sure we can meet your expectations. We will also ask about interests to make sure that lessons are relevant and engaging. Consultations are free of charge.

Lessons can be delivered as often as you'd like - on a weekly, fortnightly or even a sporadic basis.

Children (P1-7)

Our lessons for primary school aged children each focus on different themes dependent on individual interests - from cafés and safari to pirates and exploring a new town. Learners are sent a vocabulary pack in advance of the class which shows all resources needed for the lesson and they will easily be able to use these alone under the direction of their teacher over the course of the lesson.

Additional activities may sometimes be in the pack which can be completed independently before the next session.

Young People (S1-S3)

Our lessons for young people in Broad General Education are delivered by GTC registered secondary teachers. Sessions follow learner-directed interests as well as building key skills that are in line with the curriculum. Key grammar skills are covered to make sure that pupils are set in good stead for future language learning.

Additional activities will sometimes be sent in a pack which can be completed independently before the following session.

SQA Exam Revision and Support

For those who wish to get a head start or support on exam skills and coursework, one of our GTC registered teachers (with experience in all Scottish certificated classes) can deliver sessions.

Sessions use original, purpose-built materials that build vocabulary, exam skills and confidence for upcoming exams and aim to help build pupils' confidence and fill any knowledge gaps before exam time.

Adults

Our lessons for adults can focus on holiday language, business language or can support adults in their specific language learning goals.

By either enjoying a glass of wine while learning how to order food and drinks in a Spanish cafe to learning how to greet others in a French business meeting, we make sure adults enjoy their language learning process and build confidence quickly.

Families

Our lessons for families will have something for everyone. Games and lots of repetition for the children and young people involved and some more complex elements to engage the parents and offer a challenge to everyone. Lessons focus on language needed when visiting the country and can focus on specific areas of interest which the family have.

Additional activities can be sent in a pack which can be completed independently before the following session.
